WE THE SENIORS

We, the seniors, will always remember September 6, 1942, as an important day in our lives, for it was on this day that Betty Overton, Harold Booth, Mary Alice Holden, Jimmie Flurry, Roy Roberts, L. Dean Faulk, Helen Griffin, Nell Mallette, Maudree Murphy, Naomi Woodman, Doris Mallette, Juanita Havens, Stanley Ramsay, and Marjorie Hawley enrolled as freshman at Vancleave High School. That year, for some reason, Doris Mallette was voted "Greenest Freshman", but Doris just took it in her stride and went along in her happy-go-lucky, carefree way as she always did in her high school days. We found Doris to be a fine classmate and a good romance provider the four years we spent with her. Marjorie Hawley--that strong personality--started the "ball rolling" about this time and kept it going all through high school. When we finished the ninth year, we found that we had all successfully passed on into the tenth grade.

The next fall, as sophomores, we felt that we were in for a good time. And did we have it! With the coming to our class of two vivacious, new girls, Ruth Austin and Kathy Einfeldt, and the discovering that quiet and dignified Juanita Havens was a good musician, things, changed rapidly, and we found that parties were more fun!!! Little did we dream then that "Nita" would some day be Salutatorian of her class.

As juniors we began to realize that we were growing up and had to work more and play much less. We thoroughly enjoyed studying "Macbeth" and producing the play, "Take A Letter". We also observed that Stanley Ramsay had a decided "gift of gab". Why, he even talked himself into getting an English medal! His jesting, wise-cracking, and joking proved to us that Stanley has a very intelligent mind (Sometimes we were dubious about it, but we all knew he was a great character.) We remembered the lone senior by giving her two elaborate banquets. At the completion of that year, we lost five members of our class: Nell Mallette, L. Dean Faulk, Helen Griffin, Mary Alice Holden, and Maudree Murphy.

When we entered upon the most important year of our high school, we were indeed overjoyed. We were seniors! Only five out of the fourteen original students remained to graduate. We were delighted to welcome to our class, Stover Tillman, who had served in the navy during the war. We all remembered Stover from prior years because of his outstanding mathematical ability. Some day Stover will be teaching children that 2 and 2 make 4. What is more he will prove it, too! Out of our class this year Marjorie Hawley, Naomi Woodman, Stanley Ramsay, and Juanita Havens, published the school paper, THE STUDENT STAR. It was that year, too, that what we had been expecting came true. Naomi Woodman was acclaimed Valedictorian, an honor which she justly deserved because of her conscientious effort at all times to carry out in minute detail any instructions she received. Her senior year found her ably coping with the difficult test of editing TIME 'N' TIDE and serving as first editor of THE STUDENT STAR. We appreciated her neat, efficient manner of executing all assignments. Naomi was the member of our class we could always--positively always--rely on to say the wrong thing at exactly the right time. Our charming English teacher, Mrs. George Penton, sponsored us our junior and senior years. We, the seniors, felt that this year had been a splendid success.

All of our teachers were understanding, sweet, and kind to us. We realized our high school days had been spent under diverse conditions and we felt extremely fortunate in having had such able instructors throughout those years.

Now our high school days are almost over. Soon, we must bid our under-classmates farewell, but we shall always treasure the dear memories of the happy days spent at good old Vancleave High School. Next year we will be envying all you students over in the new, up-to-date, beautiful, brick building. It is up to you boys and girls now--you take over from here. And please be sure to make the best of everything.

ALMA MATER

Where the sleepy, silver Bluff Creek,
Gleams among the pines;
Watching o'er a stately people,
Alma Mater shines.

Forward, Forward, Vancleave High School,
Time and tide may fail,
But our hearts shall ever love thee,
Vancleave High School hail.

Like a wave thy humble children,
Surge around thy feet,
Guide them, train them, teach them wisdom,
Alma Mater sweet.

Somewhere, Not Here
May 1, 1952

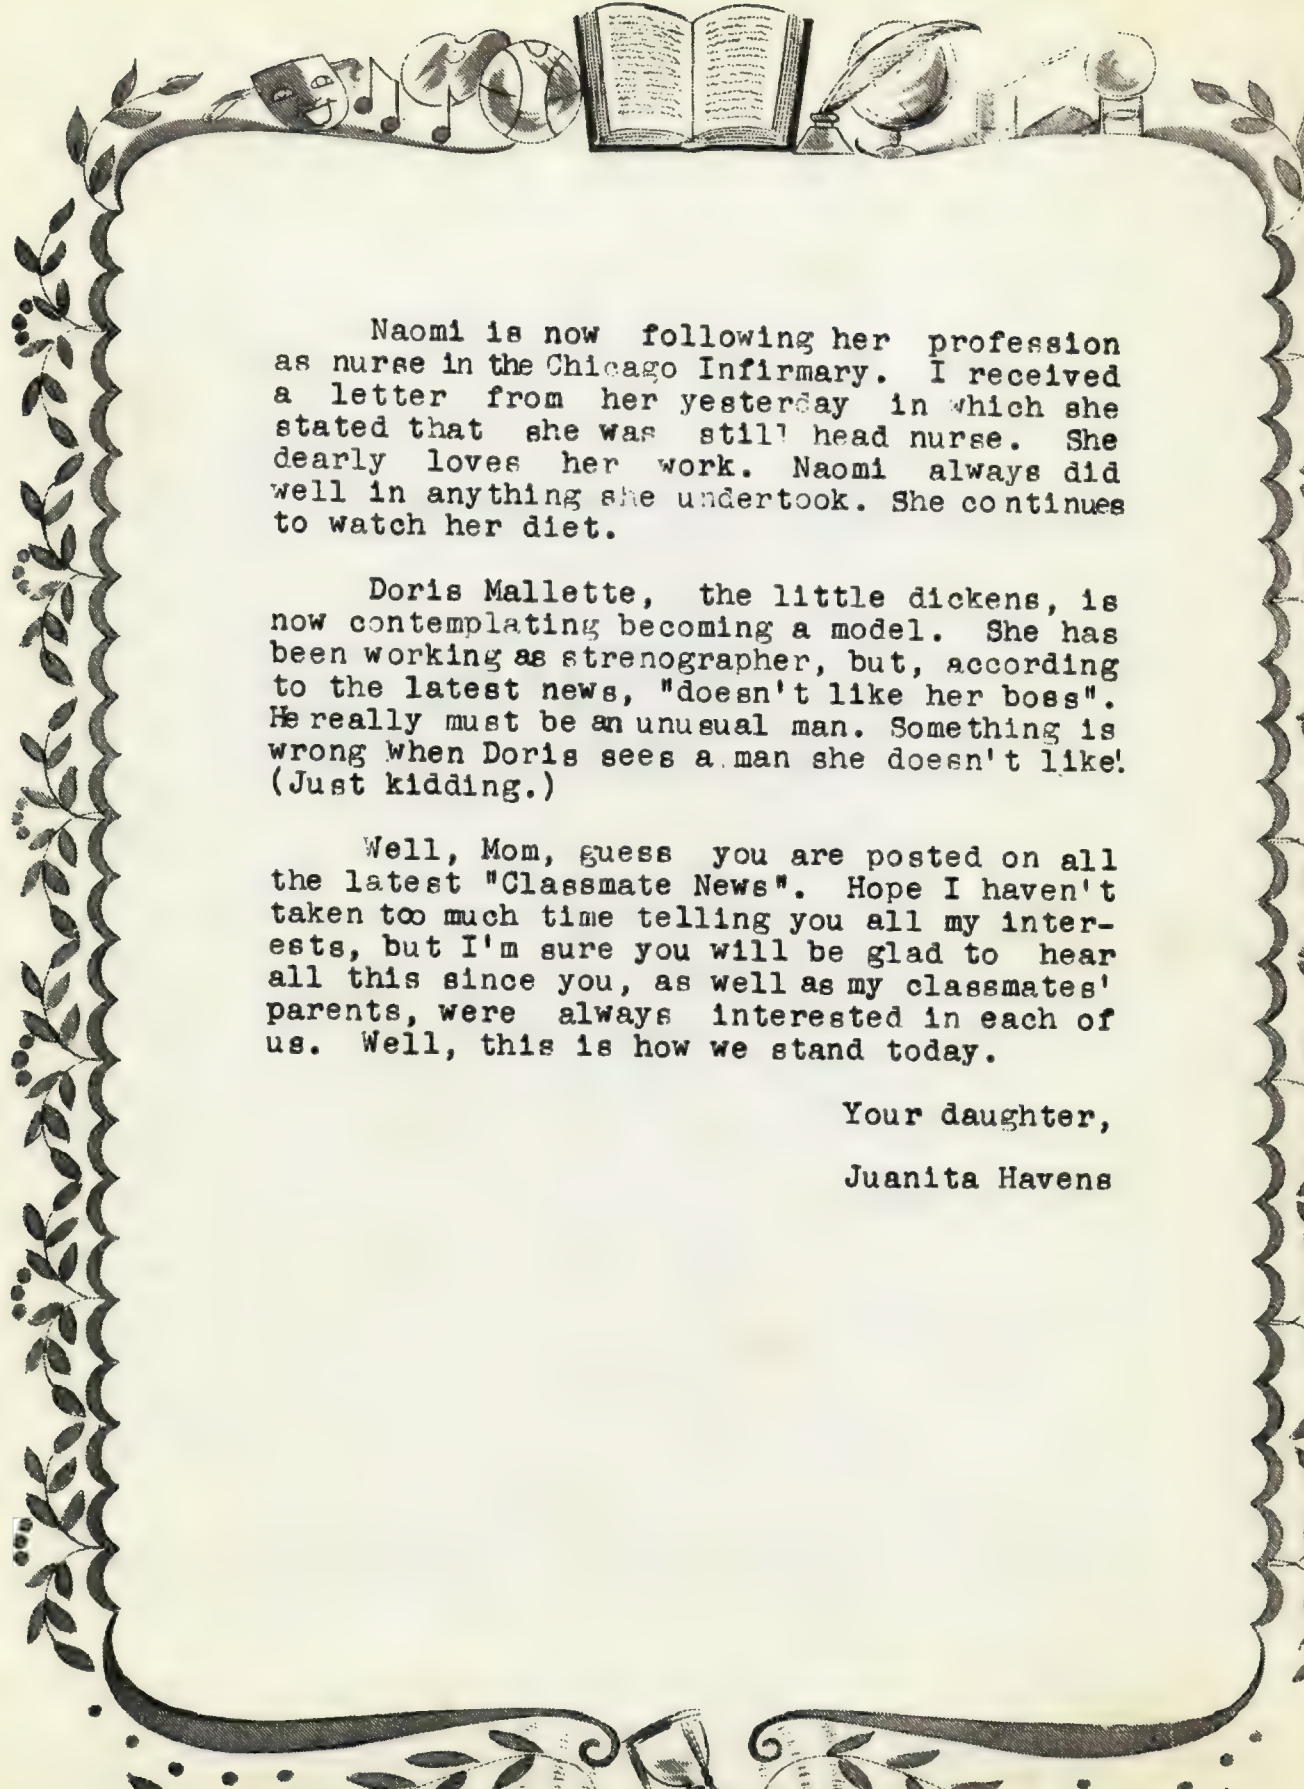

Dear Mom,

As I scribbled the date, May 1st, I thought of my graduation from Vancleave High School back in '47. Although it has been five years now, I still recall the funny things that happened back then and I often find myself thinking of my classmates. You know, Mom, they all did well even though at times I wonder how we ever struggled through.

Several days ago I attended a luncheon for the employees of "Wilson and David's Chain Stores". You will never guess my surprise when I learned that the young man to my left was formally a seaman under Lieut. Commander Stanley Ramsay. He also showed me a picture of Stanley. He really looks like a big shot these days. Large—my goodness!

Guess you know Stover Tillman is planning on taking up aviation very soon. He has been math instructor at Perkinson College for several years. Stover was always bright along that line and it often made me wonder, while taking geometry especially, why he was blessed with brains I had such a dreadful shortage of.

Marjorie and I see each other quite often. We just can't seem to be separated. According to the editor of the "Meridian Star" she has an excellent rating as journalist and they truly value her work. She still specializes in handwriting. She really knows how to twist a pen. I sometimes wonder how "Targe" keeps up her moral without basketball.

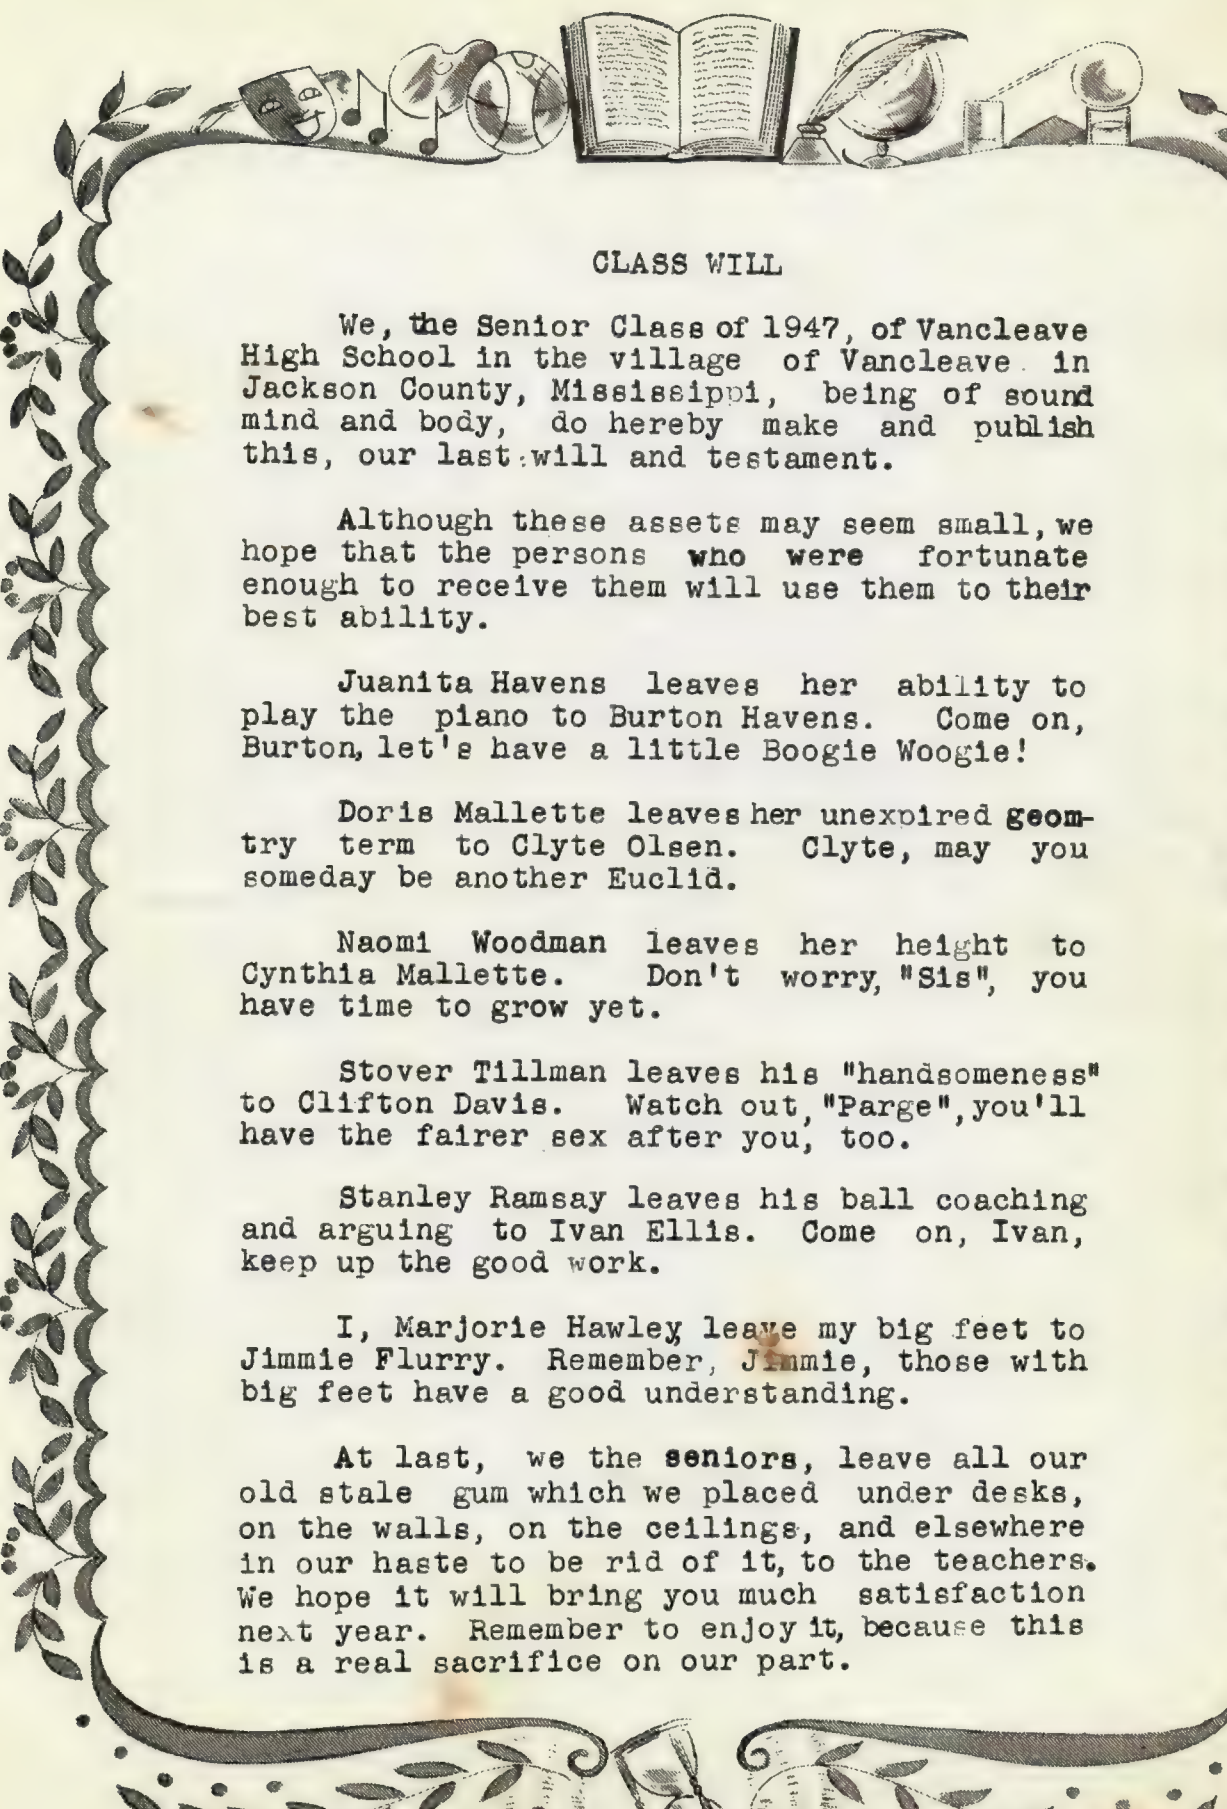

Naomi is now following her profession as nurse in the Chicago Infirmary. I received a letter from her yesterday in which she stated that she was still head nurse. She dearly loves her work. Naomi always did well in anything she undertook. She continues to watch her diet.

Doris Mallette, the little dickens, is now contemplating becoming a model. She has been working as stenographer, but, according to the latest news, "doesn't like her boss". He really must be an unusual man. Something is wrong when Doris sees a man she doesn't like! (Just kidding.)

Well, Mom, guess you are posted on all the latest "Classmate News". Hope I haven't taken too much time telling you all my interests, but I'm sure you will be glad to hear all this since you, as well as my classmates' parents, were always interested in each of us. Well, this is how we stand today.

Your daughter,
Juanita Havens

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1947, of Vancleave High School in the village of Vancleave in Jackson County, Mississippi, being of sound mind and body, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament.

Although these assets may seem small, we hope that the persons who were fortunate enough to receive them will use them to their best ability.

Juanita Havens leaves her ability to play the piano to Burton Havens. Come on, Burton, let's have a little Boogie Woogie!

Doris Mallette leaves her unexpired geometry term to Clyte Olsen. Clyte, may you someday be another Euclid.

Naomi Woodman leaves her height to Cynthia Mallette. Don't worry, "Sis", you have time to grow yet.

Stover Tillman leaves his "handsomeness" to Clifton Davis. Watch out, "Parge", you'll have the fairer sex after you, too.

Stanley Ramsay leaves his ball coaching and arguing to Ivan Ellis. Come on, Ivan, keep up the good work.

I, Marjorie Hawley leave my big feet to Jimmie Flurry. Remember, Jimmie, those with big feet have a good understanding.

At last, we the seniors, leave all our old stale gum which we placed under desks, on the walls, on the ceilings, and elsewhere in our haste to be rid of it, to the teachers. We hope it will bring you much satisfaction next year. Remember to enjoy it, because this is a real sacrifice on our part.

CLASS POEM OF '47
Naomi Woodman

Every lad and every lass
Found a welcome spot in our class.
Our classmates were loyal, kind and dear
And I shall tell you about them here.

Marjorie Hawley is a versatile child;
You'll find she has the jolliest smile.
She dabbles much in this and that
And really has basketball playing down pat.

Juanita Havens is small, trim and neat;
She's always "just-so" from head to feet.
She is fond of commercial studies and such
And gives the piano her original touch.

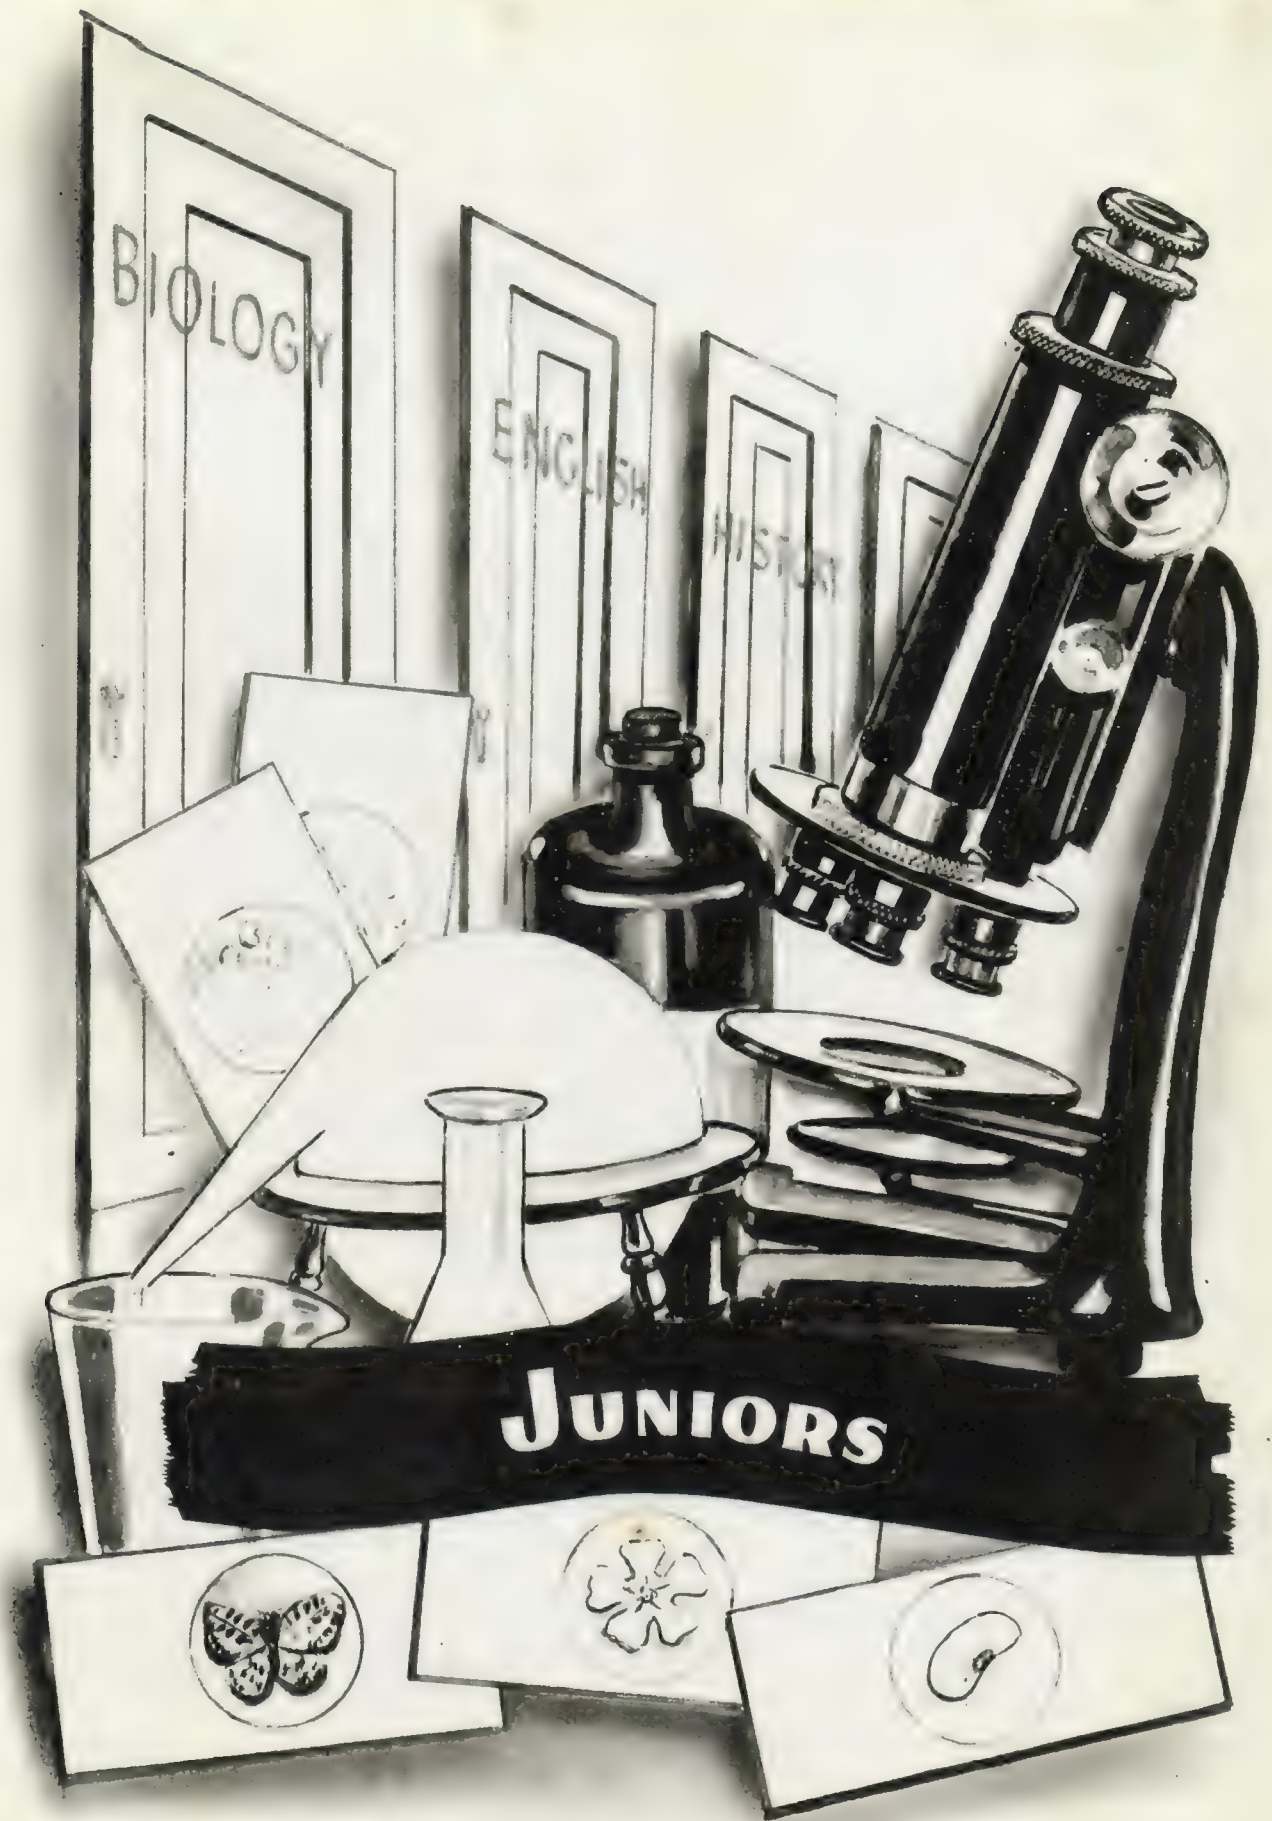

Doris Mallette will never have to clamor
About that little thing called glamour,
For with it she is abundantly blessed.
Of all the boys she likes Stover the best.

Stanley Ramsay is as smart as a whiz;
He's very good in everything there is.
He is destined to be an admiral so true
And tour the world in Navy-blue.

Stover Tillman is cute and bright;
His voice will carry far out of sight.
As a mathematician he will go far
'Cause along that line he is 'way above par.

Now for the member that is left--
Of course, I can't talk about myself.
So, friends, just keep me in mind
And that will suit me just fine.

Yes, ~~Seniors~~, we started out on a long career
But now the end is drawing near;
And as the years fade out of sight
We'll look back on them with sweet delight.

JUNIOR HISTORY

The record of our class from the beginning in 1935 until 1942 was destroyed when the school building burned. There was an enrollment of approximately forty-five the first year.

The loss of old members and the coming of new ones has left only six of the original group. They are Clifton Davis, Joyce Groves, and Doris Tillman.

Our teachers from our first year until the present time were: Miss Corinne Thomas, Miss Annie Mae Murphy, Miss Susie Vaughan, Miss Sudie Thomas, Miss Vida Thompson, Mr. G. H. McBride, Mrs. Arona Kohlman, Miss Harriet Nivens, Mr. Leonard Long, Miss Gladys Saucier, Mr. N. E. Taconi, Mrs. T. L. Murphy, Mrs. George Penton, Mrs. Henry Davis, and Mr. N. C. Everett.

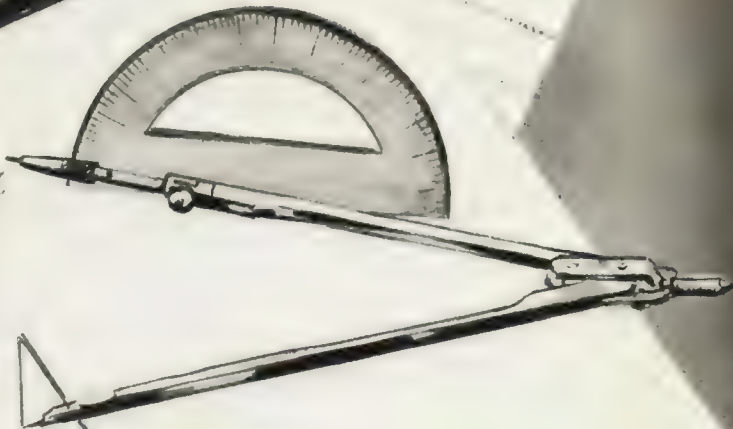

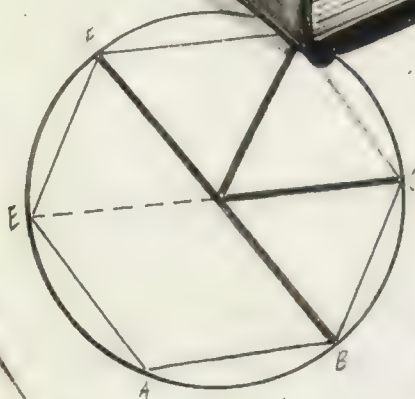

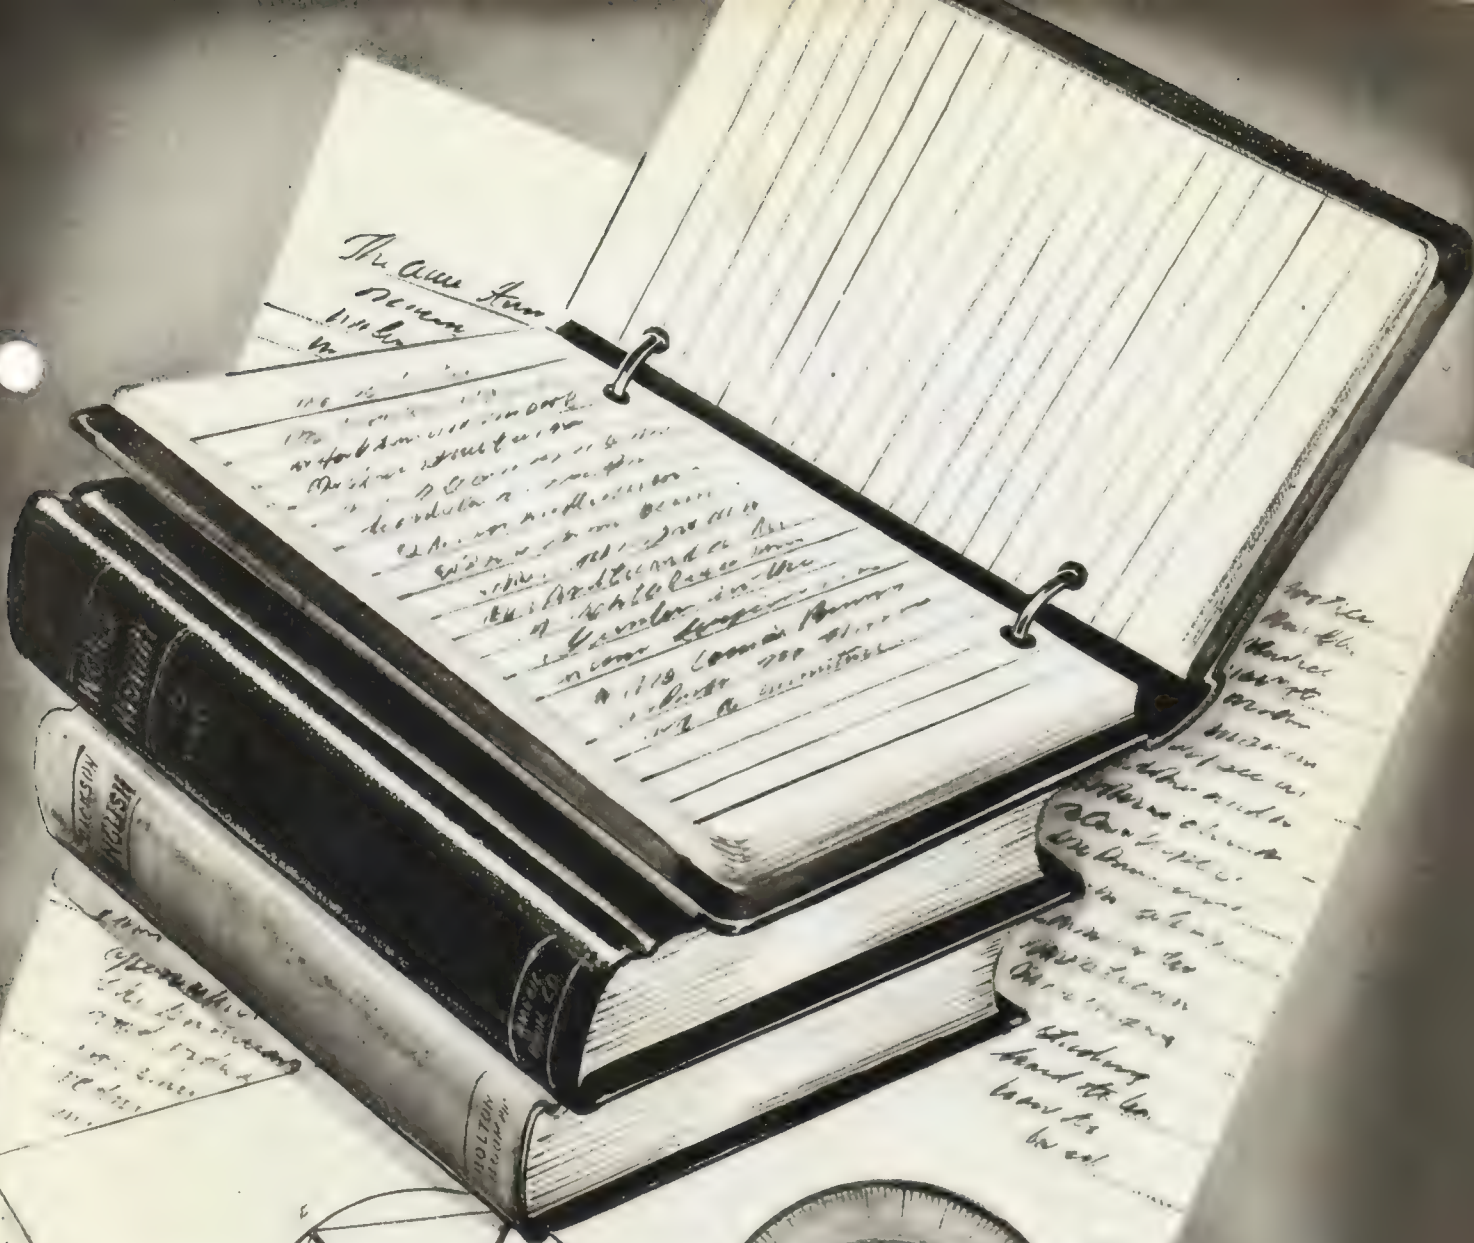

This term of 1946 and 1947 leaves a record of average activities. Our most outstanding accomplishment this year was the winning of the Annual King and Queen election, with Doris Tillman as queen and Clifton Davis as king.

The students at present are: Tevis Calton, Joyce Groves, Clyde Olsen, Doris Tillman, Clifton Davis, Ivan Ellis, L. Dean Faulk, Edmond Jennings, Bob Roberts, Marshall Roberts and Horace Parker, Roy Roberts, and Jimmie Flurry, World War II Veterans.

The officers are: Roy Roberts, president, Jimmie Flurry, Vice-president, Clifton Davis, reporter, and Doris Tillman, secretary and treasure.

Our aim is to be the graduating class of 1948.

SOPHMORE HISTORY

In 1936 under the supervision of Miss Corinne Thomas the present sophomore class began their first year of school with the following members: Beatrice Ellis, Bettie and Peggy Dees, Florian Ware, William Beasley, Billy Overton, Wiley Dobson, Luther Harbin, Norwood Seymour and Velma Smith.

The next seven years of their school life were spent under various new teachers, including Misses Annie Mae Murphy and Susie Vaughan. As the years passed they welcomed a number of new members, some of whom were: Bobby Jean Dees, Pete Delancey, Chester Seymour, Herbert Webb, Joyce Mitchell, Jonnie M. Morris, Louise King, Mary Quave, Louise Ware, Nelda Gamblin, Floyd Curry, Emmie Lois and Charles Reeves, June Wilson and Cecil McMillan.

Entering high school in their ninth year, they were terribly pleased with themselves and felt rather grown-up. They found more entertaining things to think of besides studying, but they all passed on at the end of the year to the tenth grade.

Now, as sophomores, they are finding the road to an education gets worse and worse, but they feel confident that they will greet each other as juniors next year.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

The present ninth grade started to school in 1936 with Miss Thomas as our teacher. In the class were: Marlene Byrd, Catherine Tillman, Helen Fay Flurry, Cynthia Mallette, Geraldine Atwell, Gracie Jo Smith, Bobby Jean Dees, and Colleen Cole.

In the first grade the class was separated. Miss Thomas took half while Miss Annie Mae Murphy took the other. Miss Annie Mae taught all of the class in the second grade. Leo Noble, Burah Lee Holden, Leo Holden and Lester Mallette came in that year.

Miss Susie Vaughan taught us in 1938. That year Marlene Byrd left and Harry B. Mallette and Mosely Mallette came into our grade. Miss Susie kept half of the class and Mrs. Jewel Rogers took half.

The next year we were in the fifth grade with Mrs. W. M. Breeland as our teacher. We had all the same students, and one new girl, Stella Broadus. Mrs. Breeland taught us the following year also.

Then we moved over to high school where we had three teachers, Mrs. Lee Mitchel, Mr. G. E. Sheffield, and Mrs. Vertis Ramsay. When we were in the eight grade, Mrs. Marilena Penton, Mr. N. E. Taconi, Mrs. Fern Wilson, and Mr. Leonard Long taught us. Bobby Ross joined our class.

Now, in 1947, we have several new pupils, Zelma Bosarge, Margaret Parker, and Brady Butler. Our teachers are Mr. N. C. Everett, Mrs. George Penton and Mrs. Paula Murphy. Bobby Ross dropped out of the class when he moved away.

ELEMENTARY

EIGHTH HISTORY

In the year 1939, twenty-eight little girls and boys started to school. Miss Potter, our first teacher, was very good to us, because all of us were sad and very homesick the first couple of weeks of school.

We moved on in school, though; most of us made two grades in one year. After the first year Miss Annie Mae Murphy was our teacher. Some of the pupils dropped out, some went to other schools and some new ones came into our class. We went from Miss Murphy's room on to the third grade where our teacher was Miss Susie Vaughan.

During the summer of 1942 our school building burned down, and the next year we moved into another building where Miss Susie Vaughan was still our teacher. The next year we moved to Mrs. Walter Breeland's room, where we were taught the fifth and sixth grades.

We moved to the high school after that for the seventh grade where Mrs. George Penton, Mrs. Roland Fuller, Mr. N.C. Taconi and Mr. Leanord Long were our teachers.

This year we have in the eighth grade twenty-one husky lads and lassies who are looking forward to their first year in high school. They are: Winifred Havens, Clara Ellis, Evelyn Jennings, Patsy Dees, Rosemary Ramsay, Alice Cole, Jimmie Nell Mitchell, Alice Tanner, Pearl Olsen, Billy Dee Havens, Patty Joyce Wilson, Jennie Vee Overstreet, Bobby Holden, Darnell Atwell, Max Roberts, Kenneth Roy Wilson, Leon Fletcher, Bobby Moe, Charles Daniels, Wilton Holden, and Joseph Hawley.

SEVENTH HISTORY

During our first year in school in 1940, Miss Henrietta Potter taught the following boys and girls: Myrna Fay Allen, Gerald Holden, Addie Lee Overstreet, Frances Breeland, Myron Tillman, Van Roberts, Ellis Olsen, James Tanner, Rita Joe Walker, Laura Quave, Hazel Goff, Maxine Nix, Floy May McAllister, Kenneth Walker, Edwina Havens, McIwain Vaughn, W.G. Groves, Jr., Virginia Goff, Emmie Lois Brown, Randal Ross, Martha Sue Nixon, Jacqueline Parker, Margie Harbin, Lavada Graham, and Shirley Allen.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Jacob Lockard in our second and third years' work, the educational road we traveled was smooth and uneventful. We were pleased to welcome Dixie Curry and Gertrude Broadus into our class.

The following year we were happy to be instructed by our beloved, Miss Susie Vaughan. This was one of our most outstanding years in elementary school. We are still puzzled and wonder how in the world Miss Susie made that dull subject, geography, so very interesting to us. One new student, Alvin Williams, joined our class in the fourth grade.

In the fifth grade under Mrs. Breeland our largest number of new pupils, seven in all, became part of our class. They were: Estelle Holden, Dimple Whiddon, J.W. Turner, Lilly Blanchard, Guy McMillan, Charles Andrews, and J.D. Dogwell.

Again under Mrs. Breeland in the sixth grade three new members joined our class--- James Penton, Roy Walker, and William Karman.

Now, in 1946 and 1947, we have five new students, Elva Mae Ware, Edmond Havens, Gerald Bosarge, and Gwendolyn Everett. Our teachers are: Mrs. George Penton, Mrs. T.L. Murphy, Mrs. Henry Davis and Mr. N.C. Everett.

While attending the first six years of school the following students have been awarded certificates for perfect attendance: Margie Harbin, Edwina Havens, Shirley Allen, Fave Allen, Ruth McMillan, Laura Quave, and Gwendolyn Everett. Ruth McMillan won a medal for being the "Best All-Round Girl" in our class and Elva Mae Ware received one for being the "Most Outstanding Student".

SIXTH GRADE HISTORY

The snappy sixth grade were beginners of 1940-1941.

Different members of the class were started by Miss Potter, Miss Thomas, Miss Russum, Miss Meggs and Mrs. Smith.

Miss Annie Mae Murphy had almost the whole class in the third and fourth grade. The fourth year was well spent in Miss Susie's room. The fifth grade was divided between Mrs. Taconi and Mrs. Breeland.

In the autumn of 1946 two members were added: Adrinne Saucier of Leaksville and Don Wright of Sacramento, California. Now almost seven months in the sixth grade have been spent under Mrs. Wilson's instruction.

FIFTH GRADE HISTORY

Just one half of the members of this class started in Vancleave School with either Mrs. Roberts or Miss Russum.

The second, third and fourth grades were taught by Miss Annie Mae, Mrs. Sheffield and Mrs. Taconi, respectively.

When fifth grade work was started in the autumn of 1946 with Mrs. Wilson, eight new members joined the class: Mary Fay Tarver, Lonzo Walker, Donald Daniels, Donald Vaughn, Alice Ruth Randolph and Shirley June Bosarge. With a total of twenty-seven this group makes a happy and promising class.

BASKETBALL BOYS

SPORTS

The Bulldogs' ball season opened early in September with approximately fifteen boys and girls going out for practice. Mrs. Henry Davis coached the girls; Mr. Everett, the boys.

The teams were very surprised and pleased when they received new suits this year. The boys uniforms are red and blue; the girls, navy and copenhagen, and both have white letters and numbers.

The girls' most exciting game of the season ending with a tied score of 26-26 was played against Wade.

The most thrilling game for the boys culminated in their defeating Dedeaux by one point in the D'Iberville Tournament and their being awarded with a chicken dinner.

The captain for the girls' team was Marjorie Hawley. The boys' team alternated with each boy acting as captain at least once. The teams' high scoring players for the season were Stover Tillman and Marjorie Hawley.

The following were the players for the teams: Girls: Doris Mallette, Peggy Dees, Zelma Bosarge, Bettie Dees, Beatrice Ellis, Cynthia Mallette, June Wilson, Clyde Olsen, Pearl Olsen, Kathryn Tillman, Joyce Groves, and Marjorie Hawley.

Boys: Joyce Mitchell, Stover Tillman, Roy Roberts, Jimmie Flurry, L. Dean Faulk, Edmond Jennings, Clifton Davis, Florian Ware, Pete Delancey, Ivan Ellis, Marshall Roberts, and Leo Nobles.
